THIS MONTH'S COVER picture salutes Peter W. Candy of Los Angeles, Calif., who in his short time in the game has established himself as one of skeet's all-time greats. This year he has completed two new world long run records in registered competition—1589 straight with his 12 gauge and 438 straight with the 28 gauge. He won the world 12 gauge championship in 1960 and the all-around title in 1961.

Libya may seem far away to most American skeet shooters but skeet is very near and dear to the people there as a favorite form of recreation. Upper left, Staff Sergeant John Neuppert, a member of the Wheelus Rod & Gun Club, Wheelus Air Base, Tripoli, is consistently among the top scorers there. And, upper right, Margorie DeSoto (left) and Dottie Fielden, wives of base personnel, are the only two members of their sex in the club. Ambassador to Turkey, calls for his target at Low 8 during a round in which he was the honor guest at the official opening of the Ankara Rod & Gun Club Oct. 2, attracting 60 local shooters and spectators. The referee is Capt. David I. Wright, club skeet chairman. At left is T/Sgt. Woodrow Williams. Hidden from view by Captain Wright is Earl Lamb. This newly affiliated N.S.S.A. club has found great enthusiasm for the sport and is considering expansion of facilities to satisfy the interest already evident.

LOWER RIGHT—NSSA director for the USAF, member of the Executive Committee, a four guns Class AA shooter and very active worker for the sport and the association, Kenneth E. Fletcher, has been appointed surgeon general of the United States Air Force. This position, which he assumes Dec. 1, requires that he move back to Washington, D.C. from Offutt AFB, Nebraska. It also raises his rank from Major General to Lieutenant General. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Richard L. Bohannon, who is retiring.

TOP—One of the most enthusiastic group of skeet shooters anywhere is the one that comprises the membership of the Wayside Gun Club at Wayside, N.J. Here is an aerial view of the new clubhouse and two field layout, of which the members are justifiably proud.

LOWER LEFT—A rough New Jersey father-and-son combination is that of Ted Genola Sr. and Jr. of Elberon. Dad was state all-around champion for 1967 and Ted Jr. was junior champion. They are shown here with some of the trophies they have collected. LOWER RIGHT—Steve Pakis of Hot Springs, Ark. compiled one of the most enviable records of the year in 1967 when he won seven open all-around championships, two open runner-up titles and three junior all-around titles, including the world's, while competing in 17 shoots against top flight competitors. TOP LEFT—Strother Shumate Jr., Romney, Ind., leads a gallery of defending champions in upcoming February and March classics registered in Florida and Puerto Rico. In 1967, the gunner, then a member of the ace Lackland AFB gun pack, claimed aggregate and .410 gauge championships at the Winter Haven Skeet and Trap Club's Dixie Open. Billed as the "friendliest shoot anywhere," this year's fixture is dated February 9-10 and calls for four guns and 400 targets.

TOP RIGHT—The Trail Trap and Skeet Club annual February affair—the Flamingo Open—has San Juan, Puerto Rico's Jaime

February 15-18 in Miami.

BOTTOM LEFT—A second Lackland airman, Cecil Trammell, carried home the bacon in the 1967 edition of the Inter American Open at the Club Metropolitano De Tiro, San Juan, Puerto Rico. This year's running is scheduled for March 13-17.

An Ode to Skeet Shooting in Vietnam

All you people gather 'round,
And I will tell you about a Skeet shoot
Held in Vietnam.

Well they came from far and they came from near, they had everyone here.
Pvt., Sgt., Lt., Capt., Maj., Col. and AdmRear,
Navy, Army, Air Force, Civilian too.
They came in jet, train, walking, car, truck,
and even by Red Ball Express

Now you can call that a shoot
And I will tell you all
There ain't no wine, women, dance, or song
And there ain't nobody goin' to do no wrong.

Just a little ol' break from this here war,
And the party's tomorrow night, next door.
Now if you think that's bad, and your ears go to ringin',
Don't you worry, we will be gospel singin'.
